Lake County Memorial Museum

One hundred years ago, President James Buchanan signed the Organic Act which created the Dakota Territory. This territory became the homeland of many pioneers who came with only a courageous spirit and a strong will to make their lives better.

The determination of these men and women enabled them to brave the hardships and loneliness of settling a virgin land which gave us the heritage that is ours today.

The accomplishments of the early pioneer are evident in agriculture, legislation, and science. We students are faced with the challenge of continuing the great work of our forefathers.

Madison Central High, as an educational institution, is proud to pay homage to the early pioneers who are responsible for founding the South Dakota Territory, and enacting the laws under which we operate.

We, The Annual Staff of Madison Central High School, dedicate this, the 1961 INTER LAKES, to the South Dakota Territorial Centennial Year.

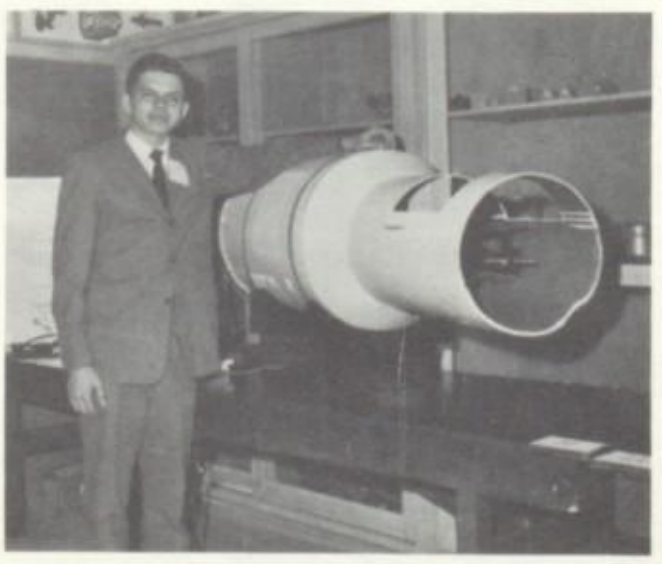
Everyone joined in the fun of homecoming, including the freshmen. Their skit for the pep meeting portrayed a class reunion of the class of 1961.

A young man, with great ambition, A. Christensen, did a remarkable job with his wind tunnel at the Science Fair at State College.



Class Officers

Annual Staff

1. B. Campbell, R. Tucker--photographers.

2. D. Schmidt, N. Kuchenbecker--typists.

The annual staff put in hours of work (and play). Our meetings were always a little on the jolly side. We have tried to carry out this mood throughout the book. We hope you will read and remember.

THE STAFF

3. This is our industrious staff towards the END of the evening.

4. Our serious minded staff is always busy at WORK?

5. "Which picture to use?" is a frequent question while working on the annual.

1. It takes team work to produce a fine school paper. This crew is now collecting its dividends.

2. At 5 to the hour, the circulation editor, G. Chapman, distributes the Maroon.

3. You've heard the saying, "I wish I could be a little mouse in a corner." C.Liddiard and C. Jung must have a little mouse friend.

4. Due credit goes to the editors M. Arneson and L. Cross, and their advisor, Mr. Hiaring, for their fine work.

5. No news is good news. But when our news editors cover the news IT'S news. Posing for picture is G. Chapman, D. Randall, and C. Grimstvedt.

Band director, Bill Ireland, and drum major, Diane Schmidt, are shown holding the trophy won at Enid, Oklahoma. This placque was given for being the most out-standing band in the million-dollar parade.

This is only one of the great honors which Bill and his band have bestowed on, not only our high school, but also the entire community. Our band is recognized all over the state and in several other states for being superior in all aspects. Not only have they acquired countless material honors, but the personal fine qualities which they have mastered as a result of band, can never be equaled by any other group of students. Responsibility, etiquette, good sportsmanship, and truly adult behavior are only a few of these qualities.

To Bill and the band, our congradulations; we, your fellow classmates and your community- SALUTE YOU.

Our basketball team had the material, the quality, and the spirit to win this year and we were off to a good start but for some reason we started to slip. But our boys always maintained and upheld good sportsmanship and high spirits both at home and while away. Many times they set the example of behavior for the student body.

What did the boys gain by playing basketball? Physical co-ordination, self-confidence, poise, new friends, new experiences and above all the self-satisfaction of knowing they have tried their best are only a few examples of the benifits they reaped. We, the student body, give you, the players, our admiration and our support. Together we shall strive for victory.

All School Play Bewitched, Bothered, And Bewildered

This year's All School Play "Kind Lady" was entirely different than any of the plays in past years. The play was a psycological drama based on the following plot: A young man, Henry Abbott, worked his way into the home of an elderly woman, Mary Herries. He proceeded to try and drive her crazy while he sold her art collection for his own benefit. In the final act, Mary pulls herself together and induces a man from the bank who had come to see Mr. Abbott to take a note to the police for her, and, once again, justice prevails.

Baccalaureate

You'll Never Walk Alone

Baccalaureate, the religious part of graduation for the seventy-two seniors was held May 19, 1961, at 8:00. The Invocation and Baccalaureate sermon were given by Father Schmitt, pastor of the St. Thomas Catholic Church. In the sermon, he expressed this central theme, "The Crossroads." The girls glee club sang "There is a Balm." After the sermon the mixed chorus sang "Heavenly Light." Then, after the benediction, the chorus sang "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

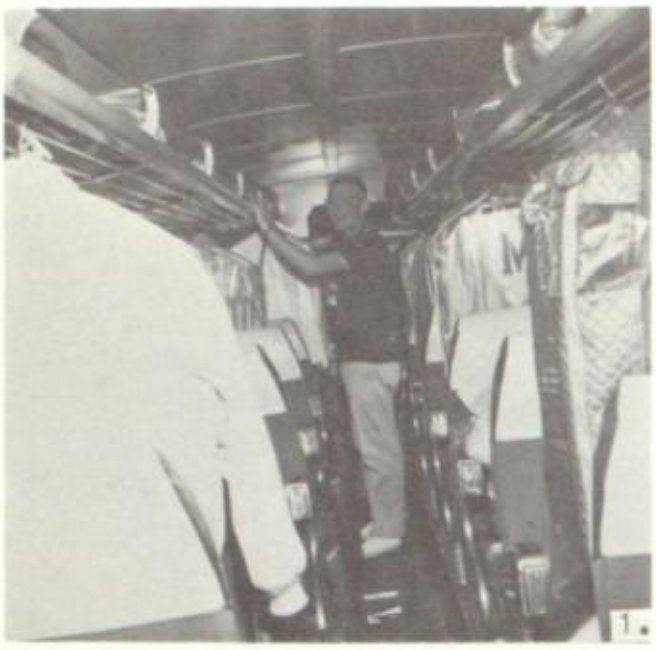
Extra! Extra! Read All About It!



1. It looks like R. Reichert is all ready to take off for Oklahoma!

2. Golly what a mess! It doesn't seem possible that all of those bags go in that bus!

3. With their name taped on the side of the bus, the band is about ready to go.

4. It looks like some of the girls are really happy to be leaving!

5. The last "good-byes" are being said with even a few tears added.

6. This placque represents the honor the band received in Oklahoma, by placing first place as the most outstanding band in the million dollar parade.

The band left for the Tri-State Music Festival in Enid, Oklahoma on May 2 and returned on May 7. This festival was a national contest for high schools of all classes. You can imagine what a great honor they have given our community by being chosen the outstanding band in the million dollar parade. They also received firsts in marching, sight-reading, concert, and inspection. The seemingly endless hours of practice paid off triple-fold.

Like previous band trips, there was also the fun after the honors were won. Sunburns, sweatshirts from the college in Enid, new clothes, and southern drawls all came home with the band to help tell the story of the leisure hours.

Once again, our congratulations mixed with a touch of the emotion-envy. You, the members of the band, have attained many goals which we have not. You are safely nearing adulthood under the guiding, encouraging, watchful eye of Bill. We know that you will continue to be a merit and a credit to your school and community.
